I hereby acknowledge and understand that I am employed in at “at-will” capacity and have no right, expectancy, claim or entitlement to continued employment at the College. I further understand that my employment may be discontinued at any time with or without good cause upon notice by my immediate supervisor and that I am not entitled to unemployment or any other benefits associated with College employees.

I also acknowledge that I am familiar with and understand the pay provisions, working conditions, and other College policies regarding employment. I also acknowledge that insofar as my employment, promotion and compensation are concerned, there is not, nor has there been, any discriminatory practice because of my color, race, sex, religion, national origin, disability, Veteran’s status, limited English proficiency, or because of any other reason which is prohibited by the laws or constitution of the United States of the State of Texas.

I give permission for the Director of Student Financial Services to release my transcript to my supervisor. I understand that a security background check may be performed.

I understand that my employment is contingent on my maintaining the GPA required by the Student Financial Services Employment Program.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT CHECKLIST

1. _____ When you answer or place a telephone call, YOU ARE THE COMPANY to the person at the other end of the line. You must rely entirely on your voice and telephone personality to demonstrate that your company is friendly and a pleasant place to do business. Therefore, it is vital that you develop and understand the powers of effective telephone communications. Your voice should sound warm and interested. This is highly important to your company—and equally important to your personal business success.
2. _____ Be a good listener, too. The person on the line will appreciate the opportunity to state his business completely. You can demonstrate interest and attentiveness by saying occasionally, “I understand, Mr. Jones” or “Yes sir.”
3. _____ If you must leave the line before the conversation has been concluded, give the caller a choice of waiting or being called back. He will appreciate your concern for his time. Always remember to fulfill your promise if you agree to call back. A broken promise may mean an angry customer or a canceled order.
4. _____ When answering calls for others, avoid using the abrupt expression, “Who’s calling?” It is more polite to ask, “May I tell him who’s calling, please?”
5. _____ Always keep a pad and pencil handy to record information during a conversation. When taking a message, WRITE DOWN THE CALLER’S NAME, AREA CODE, NUMBER, AND TIME OF THE CALL. And of course, place the message where it will not be overlooked. And when you leave your desk, tell the person who will answer your phone where you will be, and when you will return.
6. _____ Knowledgeable employees select clothing that is becoming and appropriate to the type of office in which they work. Your supervisor can instruct you in what type of clothing is considered acceptable for the work which you will be doing. Although you should be comfortable in your clothing, you present an impression of your workplace, and should dress accordingly.
7. _____ PERSONAL HYGIENE IS ESSENTIAL. Make sure you come to work with clean hair and a clean body. The use of deodorant is more important than the use of cologne. Wear clean clothes that are neat and free of wrinkles. Be moderate in your hairstyle and your make-up.
8. _____ Employees should remember that their voices can affect other people negatively or positively. You should cultivate pleasing but audible speech patterns. A loud, harsh voice can be very disturbing, but a voice that is too soft can also be annoying because it cannot be heard. A good office voice is somewhere in between. It is well modulated and audible, and it conveys a professional message.
9. _____ You must be prepared to deal with all kinds of people—co-workers and outsiders. It is important that you not allow personal affairs and interests to intrude on your job. Your work attitude is vitally important. Employers are eager to have employees who are committed to their jobs and feel that they are worth doing.
10. _____ It takes intelligence to understand the needs and motivations of others, and also to be sensitive to the reactions of supervisors, co-workers, and the public. Your words and actions should express a concern for others above yourself.
11. _____ You should use initiative. See what should be done, and go ahead and do it without being told to do so.
12. _____ Your employer must be able to depend on you to have good attendance and to be on time. This also means that once you have been given a job to do, your supervisor can consider it done and forget about it. You should come to work prepared to work. Personal business should not be conducted during your work hours.
13. _____ Employees who talk about what they know of company business can cause incalculable harm to the company and to their supervisor. Make sure you keep office business within the walls of your office.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act

I understand that, by the virtue of my employment with College of the Mainland under the work study program, I may have access to records which contain individually identifiable information, the disclosure of which is prohibited by the Family Educations Rights and Privacy Act of 1974. I acknowledge that I fully understand that the intentional disclosure by me of this information to any unauthorized person would subject me to criminal and civil penalties imposed by law. I further acknowledge that such willful or unauthorized disclosure also violates College of the Mainland's policy and could constitute just cause for disciplinary action including termination of my employment regardless of whether criminal or civil penalties are imposed.

Form W-4 (2010)

Purpose. Complete Form W-4 so that your employer can withhold the correct federal income tax from your pay. Consider completing a new Form W-4 each year and when your personal or financial situation changes.

Exemption from withholding. If you are exempt, complete only lines 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7 and sign the form to validate it. Your exemption for 2010 expires February 16, 2011. See Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Note. You cannot claim exemption from withholding if (a) your income exceeds $950 and includes more than $300 of unearned income (for example, interest and dividends) and (b) another person can claim you as a dependent on his or her tax return.

Basic instructions. If you are not exempt, complete the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. The worksheets on page 2 further adjust your withholding allowances based on itemized deductions, certain credits, adjustments to income, or two-earners/multiple jobs situations.

Complete all worksheets that apply. However, you may claim fewer (or zero) allowances. For regular wages, withholding must be based on allowances you claimed and may not be a flat amount or percentage of wages.

Head of household. Generally, you may claim head of household filing status on your tax return only if you are unmarried and pay more than 50% of the costs of keeping up a home for yourself and your dependent(s) or other qualifying individuals. See Pub. 501, Exemptions, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information, for information.

Tax credits. You can take projected tax credits into account in figuring your allowable number of withholding allowances. Credits for child or dependent care expenses and the child tax credit may be claimed using the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. See Pub. 919, How Do I Adjust My Tax Withholding, for information on converting your other credits into withholding allowances.

Nonwage income. If you have a large amount of nonwage income, such as interest or dividends, consider making estimated tax payments using Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. Otherwise, you may owe additional tax. If you have pension or annuity income, see Pub. 919 to find out if you should adjust your withholding on Form W-4 or W-4P.

Two earners or multiple jobs. If you have a working spouse or more than one job, figure the total number of allowances you are entitled to claim on all jobs using worksheets from only one Form W-4. Your withholding usually will be most accurate when all allowances are claimed on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job and zero allowances are claimed on the others. See Pub. 919 for details.

Nonresident alien. If you are a nonresident alien, see Notice 1392, Supplemental Form W-4 Instructions for Nonresident Aliens, before completing this form.

Check your withholding. After your Form W-4 takes effect, use Pub. 919 to see how the amount you are having withheld compares to your projected total tax for 2010. See Pub. 919, especially if your earnings exceed $130,000 (Single) or $180,000 (Married).

Privacy Act and Paperwork Reduction Act Notice. We ask for the information on this form to carry out the Internal Revenue laws of the United States. Internal Revenue Code sections 3402(f)(2) and 6109 and their regulations require you to provide this information; your employer uses it to determine your federal income tax withholding. Failure to provide a properly completed form will result in your being treated as a single person who claims no withholding allowances; providing fraudulent information may subject you to penalties. Routine uses of this information include giving it to the Department of Justice for civil and criminal litigation, to cities, states, the District of Columbia, and U.S. commonwealths and possessions for use in administering their tax laws, and using it in the National Directory of New Hires. We may also disclose this information to other countries under a tax treaty, to federal and state agencies to enforce federal nontax criminal laws, or to federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies to combat terrorism.

You are not required to provide the information requested on a form that is subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act unless the form displays a valid OMB control number. Books or records relating to a form or its instructions must be retained as long as their contents may become material in the administration of any Internal Revenue law. Generally, tax returns and return information are confidential, as required by Code section 6103.

The average time and expenses required to complete and file this form will vary depending on individual circumstances. For estimated averages, see the instructions for your income tax return.

If you have suggestions for making this form simpler, we would be happy to hear from you. See the instructions for your income tax return.

Instructions

Please read all instructions carefully before completing this form.

Anti-Discrimination Notice. It is illegal to discriminate against any individual (other than an alien not authorized to work in the U.S.) in hiring, discharging, or recruiting or referring for a fee because of that individual's national origin or citizenship status. It is illegal to discriminate against work eligible individuals. Employers CANNOT specify which document(s) they will accept from an employee. The refusal to hire an individual because the documents presented have a future expiration date may also constitute illegal discrimination.

What Is the Purpose of This Form?

The purpose of this form is to document that each new employee (both citizen and non-citizen) hired after November 6, 1986 is authorized to work in the United States.

When Should the Form I-9 Be Used?

All employees, citizens and noncitizens, hired after November 6, 1986 and working in the United States must complete a Form I-9.

Filling Out the Form I-9

Section 1, Employee: This part of the form must be completed at the time of hire, which is the actual beginning of employment. Providing the Social Security number is voluntary, except for employees hired by employers participating in the USCIS Electronic Employment Eligibility Verification Program (E-Verify). The employer is responsible for ensuring that Section 1 is timely and properly completed.

Preparer/Translator Certification. The Preparer/Translator Certification must be completed if Section 1 is prepared by a person other than the employee. A preparer/translator may be used only when the employee is unable to complete Section 1 on his/her own. However, the employee must still sign Section 1 personally.

Section 2, Employer: For the purpose of completing this form, the term "employer" means all employers including those recruiters and referrers for a fee who are agricultural associations, agricultural employers or farm labor contractors.

Employers must complete Section 2 by examining evidence of identity and employment eligibility within three (3) business days of the date employment begins. If employees are authorized to work, but are unable to present the required document(s) within three business days, they must present a receipt for the application of the document(s) within three business days and the actual document(s) within ninety (90) days. However, if employers hire individuals for a duration of less than three business days, Section 2 must be completed at the time employment begins. Employers must record:

1. Document title;
2. Issuing authority;
3. Document number;
4. Expiration date, if any; and
5. The date employment begins.

Employers must sign and date the certification. Employees must present original documents. Employers may, but are not required to, photocopy the document(s) presented. These photocopies may only be used for the verification process and must be retained with the Form I-9. However, employers are still responsible for completing and retaining the Form I-9.

Section 3, Updating and Reverification: Employers must complete Section 3 when updating and/or reverifying the Form I-9. Employers must reverify employment eligibility of their employees on or before the expiration date recorded in Section 1. Employers CANNOT specify which document(s) they will accept from an employee.

- A. If an employee's name has changed at the time this form is being updated/reverified, complete Block A.
- B. If an employee is rehired within three (3) years of the date this form was originally completed and the employee is still eligible to be employed on the same basis as previously indicated on this form (updating), complete Block B and the signature block.
- C. If an employee is rehired within three (3) years of the date this form was originally completed and the employee's work authorization has expired or if a current employee's work authorization is about to expire (reverification), complete Block B and:

1. Examine any document that reflects that the employee is authorized to work in the U.S. (see List A or C);
2. Record the document title, document number and expiration date (if any) in Block C, and
3. Complete the signature block.

What Is the Filing Fee?

There is no associated filing fee for completing the Form I-9. This form is not filed with USCIS or any government agency. The Form I-9 must be retained by the employer and made available for inspection by U.S. Government officials as specified in the Privacy Act Notice below.

USCIS Forms and Information

To order USCIS forms, call our toll-free number at 1-800-870-3676. Individuals can also get USCIS forms and information on immigration laws, regulations and procedures by telephoning our National Customer Service Center at 1-800-375-5283 or visiting our internet website at www.uscis.gov.

Photocopying and Retaining the Form I-9

A blank Form I-9 may be reproduced, provided both sides are copied. The Instructions must be available to all employees completing this form. Employers must retain completed Forms I-9 for three (3) years after the date of hire or one (1) year after the date employment ends, whichever is later.

The Form I-9 may be signed and retained electronically, as authorized in Department of Homeland Security regulations at 8 CFR § 274a.2.

Privacy Act Notice

The authority for collecting this information is the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, Pub. L. 99-603 (8 USC 1324a).

This information is for employers to verify the eligibility of individuals for employment to preclude the unlawful hiring, or recruiting or referring for a fee, of aliens who are not authorized to work in the United States.

This information will be used by employers as a record of their basis for determining eligibility of an employee to work in the United States. The form will be kept by the employer and made available for inspection by officials of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement, Department of Labor and Office of Special Counsel for Immigration Related Unfair Employment Practices.

Submission of the information required in this form is voluntary. However, an individual may not begin employment unless this form is completed, since employers are subject to civil or criminal penalties if they do not comply with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986.

Paperwork Reduction Act

We try to create forms and instructions that are accurate, can be easily understood and which impose the least possible burden on you to provide us with information. Often this is difficult because some immigration laws are very complex. Accordingly, the reporting burden for this collection of information is computed as follows: 1) learning about this form, and completing the form, 9 minutes; 2) assembling and filing (recordkeeping) the form, 3 minutes, for an average of 12 minutes per response. If you have comments regarding the accuracy of this burden estimate, or suggestions for making this form simpler, you can write to: U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services, Regulatory Management Division, 111 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., 3rd Floor, Suite 3008, Washington, DC 20529.
