Dear Prospective Student,

Thank you for your interest in the Phlebotomy Technician Certificate Program at College of the Mainland. Consideration for acceptance into the program is based on submitting your completed application.

What is a phlebotomy technician?
A phlebotomy technician (commonly referred to as phlebotomist) collects blood samples for hospitals, doctors’ offices and labs according to the doctor’s orders. They also perform blood draws when donors give blood. Medical professionals use blood tests to diagnose illness, evaluate medications’ effectiveness and determine whether a patient is low in nutrients.

Students are trained, in small class settings, by instructors with years of experience through a combination of classroom instruction, labs and clinical training. Students will also receive BLS Healthcare Provider CPR training. Upon successful completion of the program, students will be prepared to take the Phlebotomy Technician Exam (CPT) administered by the National Healthcareer Association (NHA).

Do I need a high school diploma or GED?
Yes, a high school diploma or GED is required to participate in the Phlebotomy Technician Certificate Program and may be required for financial aid application as well as when applying for employment (depending upon the company’s policies).

How do I begin?
Interested students must apply to the Phlebotomy Technician Certificate Program by submitting, in person, all required application documents to the CE Allied Health Department located at 200 Parker Court, League City, TX 77573. Please note: Incomplete applications are not accepted. Also, approval of an application does not guarantee a student a place in the class – it only gives the ability to register pending space availability. Please contact Nichole Sullivan at 409-933-8645 if you have questions.

Criminal Background Checks
Complete acceptable current Texas Department of Public Safety Criminal Background Check (must be no older than 12 months). (Instructions attached.)

Financial Aid
Financial aid may be available for the Phlebotomy Technician Certificate Program if the student qualifies and if there is funding available. Continuing education students may apply for the Texas Public Education Grant (TPEG-NC). The TPEG-NC covers a portion of tuition fees only (typically 50%) and is a one-time-only grant available to students demonstrating financial need. The remaining portion of the balance is the student’s responsibility and is due at the time of registration. Documenting History of Illness: Varicella (Chicken Pox)

This form summarizes the “Exceptions to Immunization Requirements (Verification of Immunity/History of Illness) for Varicella (Chicken Pox).”

A written statement from a parent (or legal guardian or managing conservator), or physician attesting to the student’s positive history of varicella disease (chicken pox), or of varicella immunity, is acceptable in lieu of a vaccine record for that disease. College of the Mainland shall accurately record the existence of any statements attesting to previous varicella illness or the results of any serologic tests supplied as proof of immunity. If a student is unable to submit such a statement or serologic evidence, varicella vaccine is required.

Documentation of prior varicella illness can be provided by the following methods:

1. A serologic confirmation of varicella immunity (positive varicella IgG result).

2. A written statement from a physician or the student’s parent or guardian containing wording such as: “This is to verify____________________________ had varicella disease (chicken pox) on or about__________________________and does not need the varicella vaccine.”
