MASSAGE THERAPIST

Call 409-933-8114 for details.

Complete the required 500 clock hours mandated by the Texas Department of Licensing and Registration (TDLR) to prepare to enter the health care service industry in one year through our hands-on labs and classes. Massage therapists manipulate the soft tissue of one's body by hand or through a mechanical or electrical apparatus for therapeutic purposes. Upon completing the program and clock hours, you will take the Texas State Board Exam for licensure. A licensed massage therapist works in an array of settings, such as spas, franchised clinics, physicians' offices, hotels, cruise ships and fitness centers. Some massage therapists also travel to clients' homes or offices to give a massage. Employment of massage therapists is projected to grow 26 percent from 2016 to 2026, much faster than the average for all occupations. The mean hourly wage is $19.23 per hour. (Source: Bureau of Labor Statistics) Financial Aid is available through COM Student Financial Services. Students under the age of 22 must show proof of having a Bacterial Meningitis vaccine.

Notice to Students Regarding Licensing

Effective September 1, 2017, HB 1508 amends the Texas Occupations Code Section 53 that requires education providers to notify potential or enrolled students that a criminal history may make them ineligible for an occupational license upon program completion. The following website provides links to information about the licensing process and requirements: <https://www.tdlr.texas.gov/mas/mas.htm>

SYSTEMATIC APPROACH TO SAFETY – 8 HRS

Accidents do not just happen. They are a product of negative influences in the system. Accidents can be prevented... and eliminated. Too often it is normal to simply blame the worker involved without understanding how the system is structured and what contributed to the accident. A systems approach assesses a system and identifies those areas and processes that contribute to accidents. This is the most powerful, cost effective method to understand what process changes are needed for lasting improvement.

OSHA'S TOP 10: #1 FALL PROTECTION – 8 HRS

For the 9th year in a row Fall Protection has taken the top spot on OSHA's Top 10 list with over 7,000 violations cited. Falls remain the leading cause of death in the construction industry. In response to these statistics many have implemented additional training for site employees on fall protection use – but the numbers aren't changing quick enough. So, if training is not the answer – what is? Learning how to minimize the risk of potentially dangerous or fatal fall hazards allows an organization to take a proactive approach to worker safety. This workshop provides an overview of effective fall protection programs, giving participants proven strategies for identifying, evaluating and controlling fall hazards. Beginning with background on current fall protection standards, regulations, statistics and trends, the workshop will provide information about all critical elements of a fall protection program. General information about fall protection equipment will also be provided, including equipment components, system development, anchorages, and clearance requirements. All information presented will be in accordance with the ANSI Z359 family of fall protection standards.

OSHA'S TOP 10: #2 HAZARD COMMUNICATION – 8 HRS

The Hazard Communication standard remains #2 in OSHA's Top 10 list. The good news is that the number of citations is decreasing. Since the revision of the HazCom standard in 2012, adding the Globally Harmonized System of Classification and Labeling of Chemicals, the types of citations under the standard have not drastically changed. Does your HazCom program meet the updated 2012 standard and are your employees trained to the new requirements? This class introduces hazard communication guidelines along with chemical safety training guidelines. It provides an overview to help both employers and workers understand requirements for posting information, warning signs, labels and other notices.

OSHA'S TOP 10: #3 SCAFFOLDING – 8 HRS

Maintaining its position at #3 on OSHA's Top 10 List the Scaffold standard continues to be cited as much for scaffold structure as it does for the lack of fall prevention when using scaffolding on work sites. This class will cover the standard requirements for various types of scaffold structures, how scaffolding and fall protection go hand in hand, and the need for a competent person and trained employees on the work site.

OSHA'S TOP 10: #4 CONTROL OF HAZARDOUS ENERGY (LOCKOUT/TAGOUT) – 8 HRS

Working its way up to #4 on OSHA's Top 10 list, the Control of Hazardous Energy (Lockout/Tagout) had an increase of citations this time around. In fact, OSHA estimates that nearly 10% of serious injuries in many industries are the result of failure to properly control hazardous energy. This Lock-Out/Tag-Out (LOTO) class is designed to help the worker and the employer understand what the definition of LOTO is and the procedures to address hazardous energy in the workplace as per OSHA. It will also address some of the components for the company to consider when setting up LOTO procedures, or the individual to consider before starting a project. By the end of the class, the student will be able to identify some of the hazards seen in the workplace, as well as, the procedures that should be used for those hazards, and the risks associated with not using proper LOTO procedures.

OSHA'S TOP 10: #6 LADDERS (AND OTHER ELEVATED WORK EQUIPMENT) – 8 HRS

Ladder citations remain unchanged at #6 on OSHA's Top 10 list.

While the citations are specific to the construction industry to put it on the list the issues around ladders and other elevated work surfaces cross over to the general industry and maritime. In this class we'll cover the use of various types of ladders (mobile, fixed) and elevated work surfaces called by names such as aerial lifts, scissor lifts, man lifts, etc. Specific attention will be given to the most recent revisions to the Walking Working Surfaces standard for general industry.

OSHA'S TOP 10: #7 POWERED INDUSTRIAL TRUCKS – 8 HRS

Powered industrial trucks (PITs), commonly called forklifts, or lift trucks, are used in many industries, primarily to move materials. They can be used to move, raise, lower, or remove large objects or a number of smaller objects on pallets or in boxes, crates, or other containers. The hazards commonly associated with powered industrial trucks vary depending on the vehicle type and the workplace where the truck is used. Each type of truck presents different operating hazards. For example, a sit-down, counterbalanced high lift rider truck is more likely than a motorized hand truck to be involved in a falling load accident, because the sit-down rider truck can lift a load much higher than a hand truck. Workplace conditions also present different hazards. For example, retail establishments often face greater challenges than other worksites in maintaining pedestrian safety. (Source: osha.gov). Showing up again this time at #7 on OSHA's Top Ten list this class will provide guidance on how to comply with the standard. Students will also have the opportunity to review case studies of recent incidents involving PITs.

OSHA'S TOP 10: #9 MACHINERY & MACHINE GUARDING – 8HRS

Moving machine parts have the potential to cause severe workplace injuries, such as crushed fingers or hands, amputations, burns, or blindness. Safeguards are essential for protecting workers from these preventable injuries. Any machine part, function, or process that may cause injury must be safeguarded. When the operation of a machine or accidental contact injure the operator or others in the vicinity, the hazards must be eliminated or controlled. Remaining again at #9 on OSHA's Top 10 list Machine Guarding was one of the cited standards that continues to show an increase of citations year over year. This class will cover the top most referenced citations paying particular attention to the options for guarding including fixed guarding and other engineering controls for guarding options.

OSHA'S TOP 10: #10 EYE & FACE PROTECTION – 8HRS

According to the OSHA overview page on eye and face protection, thousands of employees are blinded each year from work-related injuries that could have been prevented with the proper selection and use of eye and face protection. Interestingly, this standard is the newest addition to the OSHA Top 10 list, having secured 10th place. Much of the Eye and Face Protection violations were the result of employers not enforcing the use of appropriate eye or face protection when employees were exposed to hazards, such as flying particles, liquid chemicals, and potentially harmful light radiation. In this class we'll cover both the Personal Protective Equipment and the Eye and Face Protection standards for both General Industry and Construction to identify the reasons that this standard ended up on OSHA's list this round.
